

I just wanted to write in support of NEW EJersey's Do Not Call List. For my job I have to work some late night's, before signing up for the do not call registry I would invariably be woken up by telemarketers, who while keeping "normal" office hours would disturb my sleep. If a salesperson comes to my door I can ward them off with a "no solicitation" sign. The Do Not Call registry is my sign to those who would make a call.
